FIGHT ON CASH END BONUS BILL

Legion Brings Pressure on Senate Finance Committee for Action

MAY LOSE MONEY

Passage of Measure Is Promised by High House

WASHINGTON, March 30.—A move will be made in the senate to eliminate completely the cash feature of the soldier bonus bill as passed by the house, Senator Smoot, Utah, said today, after a conference with President Harding. The house approved giving the cash bonus only to men whose total adjusted compensation did not exceed $50.

Instead, Smoot said he favored a paid up 20-year endowment insurance policy with a loan value and a sales tax to raise the necessary funds.

The American Legion is bringing pressure on the senate finance committee for a cash bonus action. As a result, it developed today that practical assurances have been given that the committee will report the measure out in a fortnight or so.

John Thomas Taylor, vice-chairman of the legion's executive committee, predicted to the United Press after a visit to Senator McCumber, finance committee chairman, that the bill will come out virtually as passed by the house. He claimed that the cash bonus and the sales tax would not be inserted as reported out by the finance committee. He expressed the belief that President Harding is "for this bill."

Smoot was emphatic in declaring that senate leaders will insist upon attaching a finance provision as desired by President Harding. Although Smoot's insurance plan is not worked out in detail, tentative provision will allow a maximum of $2,100 insurance at the end of 20 years. The basic amount is placed at $500, which a soldier, dying in the near future, would receive. The amount increases by compound interest each year until the maximum 20-year period is completed, when the exserviceman would have the option of drawing his accumulated insurance or converting it into a straight life policy.

WHITE SHRINE IS MECCA OF MANY NEW MEMBERS

Formal Institution Effectuated With Membership Practically Doubled

Glendale's White Shrine of Jerusalem, which was organized March 8, had its formal institution Wednesday night with a membership which had practically doubled.

It was a most interesting event, the initiation work being put on by Artaban Shrine No. 5 of Pasadena, who wore the special vestments and jewels of the order, the effect being high picturesque.

Officers of the shrine are: Mrs. Orma Naudin, high priestess; Edmond M. Cutting, watchman of the shepherds; Mrs. Evelyn G. Pierce, noble phoebette; Maude T. Smith, worthy scribe; Sarah A. Carroll, worthy treasurer; Eva G. Vesper, worthy chaplain; Fern Roberts, worthy shepherdess; Olga Brown, worthy guide; Mac Warrick, worthy herald; Alvah Leland, first wise man; Warren Q. Roberts, second wise man; Thomas D. Watson, third wise man; Mrs. Cutting, first handmaiden; Mrs. Jennie Phillips, second handmaiden; Valencia Watson, third handmaiden; B. Frank Bourne, king; Mrs. Sarah Leland, queen; Mona King Custer, organist; Mrs. Gertrude McMillan, worthy guardian; Dr. Francis Collier, worthy guard.

Ladies in waiting and attendants on the king have not yet been appointed but will be named in the near future.

The institution work was performed by three supreme officers, viz. Mr. Wismer, past supreme watchman of the shepherds; Mrs. Orme of Pasadena, supreme herald; and Mrs. Cutler, supreme chaplain.

Following the ceremonial a lunch was served in the banquet hall, which had been attractively decorated with wild gooseberry bloom.

The enrollment of the Glendale White Shrine now numbers about 60, and a class of seven will be initiated at the April meeting. There was an attendance of 150 and the prospects for the new organization are very bright.

Success Is Attained by Doing Work Just a Little Bit Better

The thing is to do it just a little better than anyone else does it, says James W. Foley in "The Listening Post" tonight in the course of a discussion upon methods of reaching success.

Henry James in his column speaks of the distinguished Einstein and his theory that two straight lines could not be carried out indefinitely without meeting. It is a matter of science rather than the comprehension of the ordinary reader.

Dr. Frank Crane quoting Dr. Eugene Fisk says "Americans are rushing madly to the grave, flung at themselves with stimulants as they gallop through life."

Able editorials together with the usual feature articles by Della Stewart and John Pilgrim go to make up an editorial page that is well worth reading this evening.

NEW IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION IS FORMED HERE

Business Men of East Side Organize New Association

A new association was born in Glendale yesterday at a luncheon in the dining room of the White Inn. The new organization has not as yet chosen a name but the aims and objects of the organization are to work for a bigger and better Glendale. The merchants and property owners along Broadway and Glendale avenue form the membership. At the meeting yesterday C. W. Ingledue was elected president of the organization and Herman Nelson was chosen secretary. No discussion of matters to be handled by the club was held yesterday the entire lunch hour being devoted to the organization of the association. These matters of importance to receive the attention of the organization were merely mentioned and committees appointed to investigate them and report at the next meeting to be held at the White Inn next Thursday at noon.

The most important matters to interest the club are the matter of the location of the postoffice on West Broadway, the electrification of the Salt Lake railroad, the paving of Glendale avenue, and the building of the hotel proposed for the corner of East Broadway and Glendale avenue. Committees have been appointed to investigate these matters and will give reports on their findings at the next meeting.

A committee composed of the following members were appointed to choose a name for the association: Messrs. Hayselden, Vanderwood and Stuart. The resolutions committee, which will also handle the matter of the postoffice site, is composed of Messrs. Stanley, Hill, Brown, Harrower, and Nelson. The transportation committee to work toward the electrification of the Salt Lake railroad is made up of Messrs. Nelson, Lampert, Hayselden, Vanderwood and Mrs. M. L. Tigh. The committee appointed to start proceedings at once for the paving of Glendale avenue is composed of Messrs. Todd, Stuart, Ambrosini, Mrs. M. L. Tigh and Mr. McBain. The following were appointed a hotel committee with instructions to cooperate with the people now interested in erecting the hostelry: Mrs. M. L. Tigh, Messrs. Kinch, Vesper, Brown and Spencer Robinson.

MAYOR CLAIMS HIS DOGS ARE IGNORANT

The water situation in Glendale is becoming acute. It has almost created a breach between Mayor Spencer Robinson and his two greyhounds. They have refused to drink the water that is being supplied the city at present.

Mayor Robinson said yesterday afternoon, "Those two dogs of mine are nice dogs and valuable animals, but they are ignorant. They know absolutely nothing of bacteriology. They don't understand that Dr. Wilson has tested the water and says that it is pure. They absolutely refuse to drink it." It is rumored that Mayor Robinson put some of the city water in a glass bowl where his two pet goldfish, Pat and Mike, made their home, and according to the mayor, the two "poor fish" turned up their little tails and died.

REWARD OFFERED FOR MAG THIEVES

The Glendale Auto Wrecking company, 418 East Broadway, was broken into last night and robbed. The robbery was evidently the work of boys. They secured two Bosch magnetos, one of the ZR4 series and one of the DU4 series, three new ammeters and one new, large size Boyce motor. The Herbert of the Glendale Patrol and Fire Dispatch offers a reward of $50 for the arrest and conviction of the party or parties who robbed the place.

700 ENLIST FOR CHURCH HOME VISITATION WORK BEGINNING ON FRIDAY

Campaign of United Churches of Glendale for the Reviving of Religious affiliations of Citizens Has Support of Entire Progressive Forces of City

TO CALL BETWEEN TWO AND FOUR P. M.

Visitors Are Merely to Extend Printed Invitations to Attend the Local Unit of the Church to Which Hostess or Host Has Been Affiliated

- ### CHURCH VISITATION DISTRICTS
- The city has been divided into eight districts for the systematic handling of the big call back to church. The districts are:
1. Headquarters Tropic Presbyterian church hall. Chairman, Dr. Harry St. Clair.
 2. Headquarters Holy Family Catholic church hall. Chairman, Randolph F. Doll.
 3. Headquarters Pacific Avenue Methodist church hall. Chairman, Geo. J. McLaughlin.
 4. Headquarters Central Christian church hall. Chairman, A. M. Yale.
 5. Headquarters First Presbyterian church hall. Chairman, Roy D. King.
 6. Headquarters First Congregational church hall. Chairman, W. B. Kirk.
 7. Headquarters First Baptist church hall. Chairman, W. A. Horn.
 8. Headquarters Casa Verdugo Methodist church hall. Chairmen, A. W. Tiwer and H. S. Frye.

All Glendale homes will be visited tomorrow, Friday, afternoon between 2 and 4 o'clock, by representatives of all churches and Sunday schools in this city. Protestants, Catholics and Jews are cooperating in this plan to extend a printed invitation to all the people, inviting them to attend the Sunday school and church of their choice, and to secure records of the church connection or preference of every individual, which will be given to the pastor, priest, rabbi, leader or organization preferred.

Cooperating with the religious forces are representatives of the educational, social, commercial, industrial, club and civic life of Glendale. It is the belief of all organizations that this general betterment work will be of great benefit to all interests. The spirit of confidence and real cooperation which the plan has already brought to all the people of the city is most gratifying to all. Many local leaders have stated that it is the finest cooperation and the strongest organization they have ever known for any work in the history of Glendale.

More than 700 leaders will take part in the work tomorrow afternoon. At the headquarters, it was stated that 708 names had been secured for the work, and it was believed that still others would help in the plan. The first call was for 600 volunteers to do the work in two hours, and it is a great credit to the entire city that more than 700 responded. All will be needed, however, as the local leaders did not know how thickly built up some of the sections of the city are, nor how far out the building had extended in other sections, until they began the systematic plan of diagramming the blocks. It is hoped by those in charge that several hundred more people will come with those who have agreed to take part, and have enough to complete the work in one hour instead of the two hours first planned.

All the people of the city and suburbs who are not taking part in the work are urged to remain home Friday afternoon between the hours of 2 and 4 o'clock, to receive the visitors and give them the simple information desired. They are urged at least to see that one member of the family is at home to give this information concerning all of the household. Where there are boarders, who will not be at their boarding places on tomorrow afternoon, they are urged to give their names and church connections or church preferences to the landlady, who can give them to the visitors when they call. People who have roomers are urged to ask them to leave their names and church preferences with them, as that is the only way their records can be secured, since they will not visit the stores and offices, but the places where people live.

A very important and interesting meeting will be held tonight in the union high school auditorium. Those who are to take part will be given their brief final instructions, and J. Shreve Durham, Chicago, international superintendent of Home Visitation, who has had charge of the work in Glendale, will give a brief address. All interested are urged to attend and hear this interesting message. Local leaders believe the plan and spirit of the work will bring one of the greatest blessings to all the people of Glendale that has ever come from any work done here.

KU KLUX KLAN HOLD INITIATION

SANTA MONICA, Cal., March 30.—What is said to have been the greatest Ku Klux Klan initiation ceremony ever held in the west was staged in Santa Monica canyon last night, when eight hundred Los Angeles men were accepted into the order with the wiled rites of the "invisible empire."

Three hundred robed klansmen conducted the initiation ceremonies. They were from Los Angeles, San Diego, Bakersfield, towns in the Imperial valley and throughout Southern California generally.

Automobiles were parked at the entrance of Santa Monica canyon for more than a mile.

ILLINOIS MINES CLOSE.
CHICAGO, March 30.—Shut down of Illinois coal mines started today in preparation for the nationwide coal strike April 1. Other mines will close tomorrow and by the time the zero hour of the strike at midnight tomorrow not a mine in the state will be operating, according to operators and union heads.

Both miners and operators prepared quietly for the strike. They have adopted a policy of "watchful waiting" and neither will take aggressive steps at present.

PACIFIC COAST EXPOSITION CO. DEMANDS RETRACTION FROM THE GLENDALÉ NEWS

Statement as to Responsibility of La Breque Exposition Outfit for Merchants Retail Exposition Last August Is Issue

TRUTH OF LA BREQUE ITEM IS CHALLENGED

Announcement of a Proposed Auto-Motive Show Is Made as Result of Controversy Starting Between Showman and Other Newspaper

PACIFIC COAST EXPOSITION COMPANY SEEKS RETRACTION OF GLENDALÉ NEWS STORY

The demand by the Pacific Coast Exposition Company upon the Glendale News for a retraction of its statements follows:

Los Angeles, Calif., March 30, 1922.

Dear Sir: In your issue of last evening displayed prominently on the first page was a story the obvious purpose of which was intended to injure our business and good name in Glendale, hence I find it necessary that you publish the facts in the case.

The Greater Glendale Exposition staged in your city last August was a Pacific Coast Exposition Company enterprise, and not a La Breque Exposition Company venture, as the article referred to would have the public believe, and as set forth by Robert Cavenagh, who claims to be a representative of the latter concern.

Again, no solicitations were made in Glendale in connection with the forthcoming Auto-Motive Exposition bringing "Colonel" La Breque into the matter, as the standing of our institution in Glendale based upon our former accomplishment was sufficient, it being creditable in every way.

That "Colonel" La Breque was connected with this concern at the time of the Glendale Exposition is not denied, but he has had no connection with this organization for some months past, for good and sufficient reasons.

We do not find it necessary to resort to misrepresentation, and gladly provide unquestionable references to any person interested.

The purpose of the article referred to is evident, and unless due publicity in your columns is given this letter we shall be compelled to find redress through the courts, which is not desired, yet it most likely will reveal the "nigger in the woodpile."

Respectfully,
PACIFIC COAST EXPOSITION CO.
By H. E. White, President.

GLENDALÉ NEWS STORY WHICH BROUGHT FORTH DEMAND FROM WHITE

The following is the article which appeared in a prominent place in the Glendale News yesterday assigning to the La Breque Exposition Company credit for the Merchants' Exposition of Glendale last August, of which the Pacific Coast Exposition Company complains and seeks retraction:

Robert Cavenagh, representing the La Breque Exposition Co. enterprises, which staged the highly successful Greater Glendale Merchants' Exposition and Automobile Show in this city last year, arrived in Glendale this morning to arrange for the 1922 event.

The exposition company will come here some time in May or June after their Oakland show, it is stated, having just opened the season at Fresno. Mr. Cavenagh will have the proposition presented the Chamber of Commerce and Merchants' Association board of directors the first of the week and dates definitely decided upon.

The year's features are greater than ever before. "Colonel" La Breque having had an eight-foot runway especially built for the display of motor cars, as well as other novelties including the living models wearing the latest style creations.

Mr. Cavenagh was surprised to learn that others claiming themselves to be associated with La Breque's former enterprises were in the city. He states they are unknown to "Colonel" La Breque and should not be received as having any connection whatsoever with his organization.

Demanding instant retraction of statements in the Glendale News yesterday, which set forth that the La Breque Exposition company staged the Greater Glendale Merchants' Exposition Show here last August, the Pacific Coast Exposition Company through its president, H. E. White, today threatened that publication with suit unless retraction and due publicity to the retraction is not given at once.

It is common knowledge in Glendale that the Pacific Coast Exposition Company staged the show last August.

"The purpose of the article referred to is evident," wrote Mr. White, "and unless due publicity in your columns is given this letter we shall be compelled to find redress through the courts, which is not desired, yet it most likely will reveal the 'nigger in the woodpile.'"

In the News article, Robert Cavenagh is alleged to have been surprised to learn that "others claiming to be associated with the La Breque former enterprises were in the city." Cavenagh announced himself here in the interest of La Breque's show. The chamber of commerce was to be evoked to put his plans through.

The efforts of the News to push the plans of the La Breque outfit, which never operated here, and is therefore of an unknown quality, makes it necessary, although prematurely for the Glendale Daily Press to make partial announcement of its proposed plans and those of some of the strongest automobile dealers in the city—to stage a Glendale-owned show, and endeavor to make it one of the greatest expositions ever seen outside of the larger cities.

The Glendale News seems to have acquired information of the coming exposition. Hence the arrival of the out of town show men and the story in which the News overreached itself in garbled, stupid, statements to which the Pacific Coast Exposition company refers.

Chronologically, the facts in the matter begin with the efforts of some of the automobile dealers in Glendale to secure an exposition here, an automobile show of their own. Los Angeles was not to have a show this year. An auto show is a necessity in the proper gathering of prospects. A successful show had been staged by the San Pedro newspaper—why not by the Glendale Press?

For several months these dealers have urged the Glendale Press to organize such a show.

Wild Men Are Tameable Says Mrs. Blanche York

SAN FRANCISCO, March 30.—The "Wild Men of Borneo," made famous in the side-shows when most of us were "so high, aren't dangerous any more, according to Mrs. Blanche M. York, a San Francisco woman who recently returned from Borneo.

In fact, she says, they're quite tame, and the white women of the country always take one or two of them along when they go shepherding, for protection against the Chinese laborers, who are frequently in a mutinous frame of mind.

The "head hunting" days of the "wild men" have long since passed away, she says. "The former head hunters of Borneo are now employed as protectors of the white population," she says. "They quell the uprisings of the Chinese laborers. The men of Borneo have reached such a high degree of civilization that they are more like children than wild men."

GLENDALÉ WOMEN WIN HONORS AT FEDERATION

Madrigals Sing, Drama Section Plays and Building Plans Shown

Glendale has been well represented at the meeting of the district federation of women's clubs, now in session at Santa Monica. The list of Tuesday Afternoon club delegates and alternates included Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson, the president; Mrs. A. M. Williams, vice president; Mrs. Mabel Franklin Ocker, second vice president; Mrs. Ralph Meeker, Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, Mrs. Harry Greenwalt, Mrs. F. L. Hollingsworth, Mrs. John Robert White, Mrs. J. E. Sargeant, Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, Mrs. E. W. Kinney, Mrs. E. D. Cleophas, Mrs. Andrew Findlay, Mrs. P. S. McNutt, Mrs. Daniel Campbell, Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, past district president, has also been in attendance at some of the sessions, and Mrs. Charles H. Toll, president of the Los Angeles Ebels, but whose home is in this city, has been present.

Besides the fine report of Tuesday Afternoon club activities submitted by its president, Mrs. Chas. E. Hutchinson, on Tuesday morning, and the club's contribution to the clubhouse architectural exhibit, the Madrigal club of this city contributed to the fine musical program of Wednesday afternoon its members, singing "Morning" in colonial costume, directed by Mrs. Charles A. Parker, the chorus being followed by a colonial dance executed by Mesdames Henry, Puffer, Meadows and Burris.

Tonight the drama section of the Tuesday Afternoon club, of which Mrs. R. E. Chase is curator, will put on the three one-act plays recently given here as a clubhouse benefit.

To Mrs. Toll and her Ebels committee is given credit for the interesting exhibition of clubhouse plans which is a feature of the convention. The nucleus of the exhibit was furnished by the Ebels and consists of its own collection made when it was considering plans for a new building, and wrote to other clubs for suggestions. It has won such favor that the state federation has asked for the loan of the Ebels exhibit and will secure others for a similar benefit.

WOULD BAR WOMAN'S CIGARETTE

Nation-wide Campaign to Back Bill of Mississippi Representative

"NAY" SAYS WOMAN

Miss Robinson, Oklahoma Opposes Measure as Invasion of Rights

WASHINGTON, March 30.—A nation-wide campaign to divorce the cigarette from feminine lips is not far distant, Representative Johnson, Mississippi, author of a bill to prevent women from smoking in the national capital, believes. Passage of his bill, Johnson said, would cause states and cities to take similar action.

His views caused Miss Alice Robertson, Oklahoma, the only woman member of congress, to rise in defense of woman's right to smoke.

"Let women smoke if they want to," Miss Robertson said. "It's just a matter of taste and they've got as much right to smoke as the men."

"Cigarette smoking by women is one of the most degrading habits ever started," Johnson said. "It's as bad as liquor and may be worse."

"They argue that smoking is as bad as drinking liquor," Miss Robertson said. "But they have yet to show a case where a man smokes two or three cigarettes and goes home with a jag on and murders two or three members of his family."

"I'm one of these optimists who don't believe that the country is going to the moral bow-wow just because a few women smoke cigarettes. There will never be enough women smokers to really hurt the country."

"I don't know whether the toy lap dogs of the idle rich approve of its cigarette smoke or not. But I know that real babies don't like it. I don't believe in prohibiting anything unless it is a menace, and I don't consider women smoking a menace."

Representative Volstead, father of the prohibition law, indicated he would not support a measure to make women quit smoking.

"Hell, let 'em smoke," said Uncle Joe Cannon. "My mother used to smoke. Nearly all the women did down in North Carolina, where she was born and raised."

LINEBERGER STARTS SHIP BOARD PROBE

A letter was received this morning by City Manager Reeves from Representative Walter F. Lineberger assuring him that the matter of a so-called conference agreement by and between the shipping board and steamship companies which would tend to increase the water rates on east iron pipes had been investigated and the matter would be discussed with both parties at length. Mr. Lineberger assured Mr. Reeves that indications are that the matter will be adjusted to the satisfaction of the Glendale official.

This letter was written in reply to one from Mr. Reeves asking Mr. Lineberger to investigate the report of such an agreement.

MISTER NOAH MAKES HIS PLANS
By JOHN BARTON
(Copyright, 1921, by Associated Newspapers)

"Yes, indeed," went on the red dog with a conceited cock to his left ear. (Wasn't that just a yarn and a half he was spinning to the Woodfolk? No wonder their eyes popped!) "That long-necked giraffe was the very best Mister Noah needed to be his detective. She could overhear the raven recounting all his crimes to his wicked wife. And, barring the camel, out of all the Apk's menagerie she was the only one. And yet—"

"And yet Mister Noah stood there in her stall a-looking and a-studying and a-listening to the outrageous talk that was going on between her and Ham. For they were talking African. And he was a-thinking that the east might just as well have his tongue, as the saying goes, for all the good it did him. He could only nod and smile at her; she'd wrangle her long neck back, just like two ants waving their feelers dumb-fashion."

"So when Ham got done with his visiting, Mister Noah led the way to his own cabin and shut the door. For Mister Noah was a very cautious man. He even looked in all the corners to make sure no mouse was hanging round, and he turned back the rug to see if a curious cock-roach might be hiding. He was just that cautious. Then he said:

"Son, you can't fool me. That lady friend of yours in the patchwork clothes can do a pile of listening but she can't understand a word of which folks are saying."

"Ham burst out laughing. 'He, he, he, chuckled. 'Dat's funny. Cap'n Dad, I was des a-waitin' fo' you to ax me dat. Shows what you-all don't know 'bout ravens."

"So when Ham got done with his visiting, Mister Noah led the way to his own cabin."

NEXT STORY: THE WRONG TIME FOR SNEEZING.

The Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

BRINGING FLIES FOOTSTEPS WITHIN REACH OF ALL

Radiophone experts have perfected an amplifier, it is announced which records the footsteps of flies and makes them sound like the Kelly Zouaves giving an exhibition drill in wooden shoes on a tin roof.

Whether there has been any widespread public demand to hear flies' footsteps is not revealed. That the people are reaching out for more and more privileges each year is obvious, and Democratic and Republican leaders in congress let it be known today that if the public wished to hear flies' footsteps they would not oppose it.

This, however, will continue to be a free country, and you won't have to listen to flies' footsteps unless you want to. The flies don't care, one way or the other. Too much spying on their footsteps may be taken by them as an infringement upon their personal liberty, in fact, in which case they may take to fooling the radio fans by wearing O'Sullivan rubber heels.

Tests conducted by the Westinghouse people the other day showed that the movements of a flock of flies across a sheet of brown paper sounded, by radio, "like the booming of thunder."

Which may bring about a situation this summer where a person hearing a heavy rumbling noise won't know whether to reach for an umbrella or a fly-swatter.

If flies are as numerous the coming season as they were last, a very noisy summer is anticipated. Already steps have been taken to require all flies to walk on their toes in passing all established "quiet zones."

But flies' footsteps aren't the half of it. Thomas Edison announces it soon will be possible to hear the conversation of ants. The question, "What are the red ants saying?" has agitated scientists for years. It wouldn't be at all surprising if an announcement came very shortly that Mr. Edison and a group of ants had conversed at great length on the famous Edison questions.

Henry Ford, Mr. Edison's close chum, is following his experiments with keen interest. "I have always wondered what the ants were saying," said Mr. Ford today. "If they have been saying what I think they have it may go hard with them."

The Westinghouse people have gone Mr. Edison one better by declaring that by means of a powerful radio amplifier the sound of a molecule turning over can be heard. Which brings to mind the old song:

I love to sit and listen most obtuse-
ly
Throughout the fading hours of the day,
To all the little atoms, running
loosely
And all the little molecules at play.

So you can't tell what to expect next. Apparently the insect world is to be denied all privacy. One of the best indoor sports on a summer evening may be that of listening in on the moths sawing their way through a tuxedo and denouncing camphor balls.

Before the end of 1922 it may be possible to hear a boll weevil snore. This is said to be quite a musical treat.

Perhaps the most astounding news in this connection with radio development, however, came from Dumm & Dummer today:

"Let them boast about recording the footsteps of flies, the turnings of molecules and the heartbeats of fleas," said Dumm. "I have something in the works that will beat 'em all."

"What?" asked Dummer eagerly. "I have an amplifier that will do something never done before," he declared.

"What?" gasped Dummer. "You've heard the old saying to the effect that even a worm will turn?" asked Dumm.

"Yes," said Dummer. "Well, with my amplifier YOU CAN HEAR IT TURN," announced Dumm.

That brilliant and erratic novelist, the late Edgar Saltus, despised politicians. "When a politician," he once said, "does a good and generous thing it is always an accident, a mistake. The politician in this is like the stingy farmer. He was walking his wife along a city street looking for a place to eat in. They approached a handsome restaurant with a sign before the door saying: 'Luncheon 1 to 3, 50 cents.' The old lady never dreamed of stopping before such a fine place, but her stingy husband held her up. 'We'll go in there,' he said reflectively. 'It ain't a bad bargain, Hanner—three hours' steady eatin' for half a dollar.'"

Girl Seeks $50,000,000 for "Broken Heart"

Alleging that John Wood Brooks Ladd, millionaire secretary of a Chicago metal firm, "jilted" her after promising to make her his wife, Miss Ethel Jay French is suing him for $50,000,000. This is the most staggering sum ever asked as recompense for a "broken heart." It was through the persuasion of a business associate, declares Miss French, that the millionaire refused to marry her.

Cortland Bleeker was talking at Riping Rock about a young man who, having gone through his fortune, committed suicide in Japan. "Poor Jack!" he said. "Jack always was a bad egg, but nobody seemed to notice it as long as he was rich." Mr. Bleeker smiled philosophically. "In other words," he said, "he was all right till he was broke."

PAUL RIDER CALLED TO BELVIDERE PARK

Paul Rider, son of Rev. O. P. Rider, who is taking a theological course at San Anselmo and who came down to attend the funeral of his mother, has been engaged to take charge of the church at Belvidere Park which has been established by Immanuel Presbyterian church which has been looking for a young minister capable of taking charge of a vacation bible school and conducting a community church.

Paul will not complete his term for six weeks and in the meantime his father, O. P. Rider, will support the work for him.

Back Weak and Lame for Years

St. Jacobs Oil stops any pain, so when your back is sore and lame, or lumbago, sciatica or rheumatism has you stiffened up, don't suffer! Get a small trial bottle of old, honest St. Jacobs Oil at any drug store, pour a little in your hand, and rub it right on your aching back; and by the time you count fifty the soreness and lameness is gone.

Don't stay crippled. This soothing, penetrating oil needs to be used only once. It takes the pain right out and ends the misery. It is magical, yet absolutely harmless, and doesn't burn the skin. Nothing else stops lumbago, sciatica, backache or rheumatism so promptly. It never disappoints!

Truths in Epigram

You can fool some of the people all of the time, and all of the people some of the time, but you can not fool all of the people all of the time.—Lincoln (1809-1865).

Knowledge comes, but wisdom lingers.—Tennyson (1809-1892)

Fine art is that in which the hand, the head and the heart go together.—Ruskin (1819-1900).

NO DIVIDED CALIFORNIA

Occasionally somebody has come forward with the suggestion of cutting California into halves. The idea never has been well received either at the north or the south. It is held to be without any form of merit. Its latest appearance was when the idea prevailed that San Francisco wanted abundant liquor, and that Los Angeles was inclined to abstemiousness in this respect. Along came national prohibition and put both communities on equal terms as to thirst, and relief of the same. One noting was activities of the bootlegger in each place, would judge the supposed ethical differences to have been imaginary.

While nobody wants California snipped at the belt line, there are occasional evidences of jealousy between the sections. A healthy rivalry could not be deemed objectionable. A sneer at progress must be objectionable, because it is harmful. Prosperity at one end of the state finds a complement at the other. Let Los Angeles grow and let San Francisco grow. Neither hurts the other; each helps the other, and this applies to the rich country tributary to each. Happily they may grow in spiritual grace as well as industrially. California is a commonwealth so vast, of such varied resource, that it must have more than one region in which to manifest its prowess.

The southern paper that scoffs because of some detail of progress in which its section has excelled, is engaged in poor business. It is inviting recrimination instead of co-operation. It is recognizing two halves instead of one whole. And of course this estimate as to the habit of scoffing, goes both ways.

SPREADING DISEASE

Another achievement that must be ascribed to bolshevism is a wave of disease that threatens eastern Europe. It has been caused by Russians, dirty, starved and desperate, who have managed to flee their native land. They knew that to stay there was death. They despaired of aid from the outside. So they straggled across the border, taking with them their fevers and their vermin. Polesanders who had been prisoners in Russia and have been repatriated, constitute a similar danger.

The interest of the people of this country in these facts is two-fold. They are touched with great pity by a spectacle so tragic. A procession of sick and dying men and women, advancing slowly, some falling by the way, some keeping on their dreary quest, carrying with them the potentiality of plague. Nothing could be more dreadful.

There is to be considered also the fact that disease in Europe might easily be brought to these shores. The tide of immigration keeps up. It is almost impossible to think that none of those admitted has been exposed to infection. Through the open gate come many who if clean and strong, still would not be the finest material for citizenship. Considered as likely to be a menace to health in addition to their other disqualifying traits, their arrival is not welcomed with any public acclaim.

BEING KIND TO ANIMALS

There is to be a kindness-to-animals week. Doubtless the idea is excellent. Nevertheless, the person habitually cruel is hardly to be won over to a period of consideration for creatures for the welfare of which ordinarily he holds no regard. Persons who are kind to animals by natural impulse, will continue to be so the year through.

The setting apart of the week in question has evoked some curious comment. One writer says "The greatest kindness to animals is to eliminate them as rapidly and painlessly as possible." In saying this he does not have alone in mind, obnoxious and hurtful forms of life. Were he thinking of the rat, and mouse, of the hyena and rattlesnake, his attitude might be understood. He makes plain that in his plan of destruction he includes animal life in its entirety, for he adds:

"When animals of all kinds, and inferior human races of all kinds, shall have disappeared, as they will disappear, real civilization will begin."

This is not quoted as a valuable contribution to thought, but because it lends volume to the stock of folly. Civilization has begun. It is real civilization. It is marked by faults and weaknesses, which it is hoped, the growing wisdom of mankind may overcome.

There absolutely is nothing in the plan of nature, so far as grasped by mortal knowledge, to prove, or to indicate even faintly, that this globe is to be peopled by races that are to be unfamiliar with animal life other than their own. There are organisms that seem to play no important part in the great scheme. There are others whose only recognized activities are judged to be pernicious. Nevertheless human existence without the existence of various types of lower life, is unthinkable. No normal process could be regarded as capable of bringing about such a condition. No normal mind is able to conceive the desirability of such a condition.

Meanwhile "kindness-to-animals" week approaches. Despite the theory that later there are to be no animals to receive the kindness, this is no excuse for ignoring the benign suggestion of the week. The animals are here yet.

VICIOUS CARTOONS

From the first of the campaign against treaty arrangements assuring peace on the Pacific, a series of absurd cartoons has been the instrument of the opposition. It is possible to crowd much meanness into a cartoon. Such a product may display a depth of malice appreciable at a glance. A similar purpose embodied in a long editorial, might be ignored, partly because few would take the trouble to read the editorial. On the other hand, the coarse strokes of the cartoonist make an instant revelation.

One of these cartoons shows the Pacific as a pond around which Japan has erected a fence. Notices are being placed warning all trespassers to keep away. A crude caricature of Uncle Sam, represents him as peeking longingly over the barrier.

It is impossible for such buffoonery on the part of an artist, to have the effect desired by him. On the contrary, it shows the shameless way in which a man, perhaps of high ability, may hawk his talents in the market place. The cartoon is not, even in a remote fashion, in consonance with the truth. The United States is not shut from the Pacific. No body has shown a desire to shut it out. None is competent to shut it out, were this the desire.

By the terms of the treaty the United States is left with as powerful a navy as there is in the world, that of Japan being numerically much smaller. If congress elects to denature the navy, reducing it to unmanned ships employed only in gathering barnacles, congress will have to bear the blame.

The recent mine blast in Colorado fields, trapping eighteen men, with fatalities to more than half of them, was not a particularly unusual disaster. Many devices have been contrived for prevention of explosions in coal mines, but none seems to be absolute. The equation of human carelessness has to be reckoned with as lessening the effectiveness of the best safeguards.

An automobile described as traveling at a terrific rate of speed, skidded on Wilshire boulevard when it struck a wet spot, and then overturned. There were four men in the automobile, of whom one was instantly killed, and the rest perhaps fatally injured. A singular feature of the sad affair was that none of the occupants had any reason for being in a hurry.

An inventor who had originated many ideas now in use in the mechanical world, died recently in this state at the county hospital, so poor that his widow is left in desperate want. It is seldom that an inventor has been able to invent a method of protecting himself from sharks of the business world.

Lillian Russell came back after a considerable stay in Paris without having bought a single item of her spring outfit. She says she can do better in her own, her native land. Touching the matter of raiment, the opinion of Miss Russell has high standing. Paris could have afforded to accord her cut rates.

Lloyd George is a very accommodating statesman. However, it is too much to ask that whenever some irresponsible scribbler writes a resignation on behalf of the premier, that the premier place an O. K. on the paper.

There is no patent on trouble, yet lots of men have been arrested for making it.

It's the after effect of experience that counts.

ADVANTAGES

By DR. FRANK CRANE

According to Dr. Eugene Fisk, "Americans are rushing madly to the grave, flogging themselves with stimulants as they gallop through life."

By stimulants, says the press report, Dr. Fisk does not mean alcohol, which he classifies as a drug, but such things as tobacco, coffee, tea, moving pictures, the telephone, the typewriter, electric light, motor cars, newspapers, magazines, theaters, baseball games, labor-saving machinery, heating devices, and a hundred other pleasurable but health-wrecking inventions and discoveries of the last fifty years which should have been doled out in the course of centuries to enable the human race to get used to them, and to take them moderately and temperately.

Not the least paradoxical thing in this paradox of life is the fact that we are all straining after the things that injure us, and running away from the things that do us good, as hard as ever we can.

We want softness and luxury, warm baths, ice cream sodas, and all manner of needless self-indulgence—and yet that is loose and inaccurate English, for we don't WANT those things, we WISH them, and there is a whole lot difference between what we wish or desire and what we want or need.

The little boy wants his tummy full of chocolate drops and pastry, what he needs is very probably a vigorous application of mamma's hair-brush upon that part of his anatomy which the Creator designed thus to be treated.

We are always seeking advantages. The wise man, however, is the one that knows what to do with disadvantages.

Anybody can get along with plenty of money, plenty of genius and plenty of fame. That man, however, has the best assurance of happiness in this life that has found out how to get along without these things.

Almost any woman could do with a houseful of furniture, grand pianos, solid silver and Dresden china, but it takes a regular woman, you know the kind, that can be happy and cheerful, and make everybody around her happy without any of such truck.

The great difficulty of life is not to secure advantages, but to keep them from ruining us when we get them.

The best kind of life, by which we mean the richest and strongest, the one that contains the most struggle and triumphs over the most opposition, is not by any means the one that enjoys the most advantages.

Many a son has gone to the devil because of the advantages his father and mother have put into his hands.

And many a woman has been an idle and dangerous member of society simply because some man has insisted on giving her everything she wants, whereas if she had married an honest bricklayer, had thirteen children and been compelled to take in washing, she might have been happy, and have done some good in the world.

Slavery is always repulsive, but the worst of slaves is the slave to his own desires and his own unbridled appetites. Tyrants are always hateful, but the worst of all tyrants is one's self.

THE LISTENING POST

A little better.
Whatever you have to do.
That's a pretty good rule for the achievement of success.

To do it a little better.

In the shop, for instance.
Where repairs are made or parts mended.
There are many workmen.
Of many kinds.
Careful workmen and indifferent workmen and slovenly workmen.

But there are some workmen whose aim is to do the thing a little better.
Not to say the job is good enough.
Not to say it will pass or get by or go over.
But to do the job a little better than anybody else.

The persons for whom the job is done is pleased.
And the Boss is pleased that his customer is pleased.

The news of the little better job gets about.
Other persons with jobs to have done drop in.
And they ask for the little better workman.

Or perhaps it is an article of merchandise.
It may be a pair of hose or a can of fruit or something on the counter or shelf.

That is just a little better.

Others are good.

They will pass.

But this particular thing is a little better.

So the customer asks for it again.
And says he finds it is a little better than the other varieties or qualities.
Not a great deal better.
But enough better to tip the balance in its favor.

So there is a growing demand for the thing that is a little better.
Just as there was a growing demand for the

JAMES W. FOLEY.

SONGS OF THE POETS

A Laurel Leaf—By Orlando W. Kinne (1839—)

Memorial of the fast receding years—
Of hallowed days, of moments intertwined.
About the silent windows of the mind;
Reminder of the joyful time that nears
When Autumn flourishes her gleaming shears
And autumn's fingers are inclined—
A dream, almost forgotten reappears.

A smiling valley and a purling brook;
A pathway leading through a shady dell;
A maiden with a soul-bewitching look;
A purple leaflet quivering as it fell;
A dimpled hand that laid it in this book;
A brief adieu—that proved a last farewell.

OBSERVED AT A GLANCE

By HENRY JAMES

An excellent reason for not killing the plesiosaurus is that the creature has been dead for millions of years.

Occasionally a bank wrecker is sent to the penitentiary, but there are few precedents for permitting him to remain there for the extent of his sentence.

President Harding asks that people obey the laws. The request appears to be quite reasonable.

A Texas girl bobbed her hair. Her indignant father clipped it close. Indignant neighbors shaved the father's scalp bald.

The city council of Des Lacs, N. D., has declared war on bootleggers, and being composed wholly of women, probably is sincere.

"Safety-first week" in Des Moines was marked by more fatalities than any of the ordinary weeks. The effort to be careful seems to have overwhelmed the intelligence of drivers.

Lenine is near death or is enjoying excellent health. All seems to depend upon how the correspondent is feeling.

The woman agent for burglar insurance who was robbed recently and found not to be carrying any insurance ought to argue with herself.

Congress will have to bear the blame if the efficiency of the navy is reduced below that of Japan's. No treaty holds such provision.

There could be no valid objection to communications from the dead if the dead had anything worth while to say.

EASTERN POINT OF VIEW

GOVERNMENT AS DESERVED

(Shoe and Leather Reporter)

It has many times been said and always with truth that our government is neither better nor worse than we deserve. Matters have come to such a pass in Washington that ordinary criticism is of no avail. The senate and the house alike lack great leaders and there is no such thing as command faithful allegiance and there are no indications of new alignments. The decline of ability and initiative is shown by the mass psychology of blocs frankly out to get what they want without having to defend or reason. The average senator and representative finds it easier to run with the herd if it finally takes him over the precipice.

If American business were as inept as American legislation it would not be long before we would give Lenin and Trotsky object lessons in applied folly. At the present time the prepondering influence at the national capitol is to safeguard reelection in November. Before this consideration, statesmanship and political economy and, indeed, common sense are forgotten.

If this arrangement is even approximately true, what should be done about it? How may the intellectual and moral standards of political life be

JUST BETWEEN OURSELVES

By DELLA STEWART

It's surprising how many of us there are that feel perfectly competent to improve the other fellow! It doesn't seem to make any difference whether or not we're making a success of our own lives. What does that matter? We're all right enough, anyway—it's the other fellow whose condition of mind or whose actions need so vitally to be corrected.

It may be wife or it may be husband, it may be relations-in-law, friends, business associates, or the public at large. We go at them, hammer and tongs—mostly hammer—until their very nerves are sore and they feel like crawling into a knot hole and pulling it in after them every time they see us coming. If we can only advise the other fellow how to be good, how to talk, how to act, how to conduct himself in general, why this world's going to be a very different place—a cross between Paradise and Elysium. And so we try and try and try. It's the one thing—that some of us never get discouraged over—the trying.

That results are not just what we would like, not what our sometimes perfectly honest intentions call for, seems to make no difference with our perseverance. That we antagonize and irritate constantly seems not to bother us one bit. We wonder why some folks are so ungrateful and so dense, and then bang away with greater force. In some efforts we learn wiser ways from our continued failures, but seldom here.

And yet the lesson is so very simple, we can never hammer any human soul over the effort into changed endeavor. We cannot be hammered into goodness ourselves. We can use tactful effort to change the governing motive of life. But that's too indirect a method to suit the average reformer.

raised? Anyone with half an eye can see that France and England are coping with their post-war problems which are greater than ours, while we are paltering and dodging issues that should be faced.

THREE-MILE LIMIT TROUBLES

(Springfield Union)

In view of the serious condition that Prohibition Commissioner Haynes faces in trying to stop the increasing smuggling of liquors along the coasts of the United States, it is not strange that he wishes the United States to try to get treaties with foreign governments making rum-runners guilty of piracy, or treaties that might in other ways stop their operations outside the three-mile limit. An enterprising New Yorker is trying to finance a scheme whereby a vessel built in foreign shipyards, manned by foreign crews and flying a foreign flag may be used as a "recreation" resort just outside the three-mile limit, such a proposition apparently not being limited by international regulations upon the "high seas."

But we may have difficulty in adjusting our policy in other matters to any treaty which limits international rights outside the three-mile limit. As the Boston Post points out as late as 1910 at The Hague the United States objected to any prohibitory acts by Newfoundland as to fisheries outside the three-mile limit, and in various ways our government is committed to a rather strict respect for the three-mile line. The situation may be unfortunate from the standpoint of enforcement, but that is not the only situation that is unfortunate from the same point of view. The needs of the prohibition commissioner are limited neither by land nor sea.

COMMENT ON DAY'S NEWS

By HENRY JAMES

The very distinguished Einstein affirms that two straight lines could not be carried out indefinitely without meeting. Einstein has said many other things that still remain to be proved. He has set a measure to the universe, a limit to space, and sought to make a back number of the law of gravitation. When to the ordinary citizen the Einstein averments appear to be foolish, the o. c. is informed that he lacks the mental grasp to know what the mighty mind is trying to put across.

Yet it is the full privilege of the o. c. to proclaim that he does not believe Einstein; that he does not believe that the scientists of the past, beginning, say, with Newton, or perhaps harking back to Galileo, have been a set of dubs.

Anybody knows that one looking ahead at the parallel lines of a railroad track, seems to see the two rails converge. Anybody knows also that the two lines do not converge, that the illusion is a matter of optics.

Geometry has taught, with conviction and in good faith, that parallel lines cannot meet. Possibly, to uphold this now may seem to be old-fashioned, but it is still permissible to believe the geometry. The same book from which the student derived information concerning the parallel lines, told him that a straight line is the shortest distance between two points. He thought so then and he thinks so now, despite all the Einsteins who ever sprung riddles to rattle the higher intelligence, and dumfounded the humble seeker after truth.

In some municipalities where the speed of trains is restricted to twenty miles an hour, there is talk of lowering the limit to fifteen.

Then when the trainmen maintained the rate at forty as they do now on occasion, they would be committing a greater offense, measured in time and miles.

It is said that a means has been perfected for extracting oil from shale. Not only this but the process of separating the different elements into distinct commercial form constitutes part of the operation.

If this is true, and it is affirmed by scientists of high standing, the gentlemen engaged in the oil industry might as well cease asserting that the supply is near exhaustion. A supply sufficient for several thousand years is on tap.

Returning from Roumania whence he brought relatives rescued by him, a Californian has told briefly the things he observed on the other side.

Industrial and political conditions are lamentable. Officials thrive on graft. The Soviets confiscate most that can be produced. He saw "a quiet, peaceful folk, living (formerly) in happiness and comfort, now emaciated and half-naked paupers as a result of the war."

The gentleman is not strong for war himself. Very few are.

Reports come from a correspondent at Yokohama that Japan has been raiding the Kamchatkan coast, sackings towns and killing people. It is said there was no distinction made by the raiders, who plundered alike the foreigner and the native.

This hostile move is ascribed to the exact time when the Washington conference was in session.

Probably Japan and Russia will mix in earnest sometime in the future. Then it will be the duty of other nations to keep out of it.

The Long Beach watchman who killed two burglars whom he had caught at their calling is to be congratulated. The burglar is a potential murderer. Killing him is the best disposition that could be made of him.

Whether it is level to teach the German language in the schools is being tested in Nebraska courts. The attempted inhibition will strike many as pernicious.

Objection to this language, first voiced in wartime, was to having it the working language of the schools. Districts were found in which the text books were German, the teachers German, and the sentiment of the institution German. The necessity for correcting this was apparent enough.

To have a knowledge of German, for business or literary purposes, is as useful as to have knowledge of almost any other alien speech.

WATCHING THE PARADE

By JOHN PILGRIM

When I was about old enough to feel that my mother's passion for keeping me in knee pants was a crime against civilization—George Jackson lived on the next street but one in our small town. I have never since been able to work up quite the same adoration for any human being that I felt for George. He was tall, handsome, handy at every sort of sport, and adventure came as naturally to him as getting caught at stealing apples and being sent to bed did to me.

"George is a fire boy," was the opinion of our elders. "Pity there aren't more boys like him in town." Whereupon every one most unjustly looked at me.

It wasn't that George was successful only on the physical side. He had everything, as we say nowadays. When he decided to leave home and seek his fortune the goodwill of every man and woman in town went with him. It was felt that he was one of the boys who would inevitably succeed. He might even put our small town on the world map. A proof of the interest and affection he aroused is that in all the years that have passed our small town still follows his fortunes, so far as that has been possible.

"He's a big man down in Mexico, they say," was the report that came to me when I last revisited the scene of my own youthful get-away.

Last week I saw George Jackson for the first time in all these years. Now he is Senor George Jackson in Spanish. He is tall, fat, dark, somewhat high-lighted as to the nose, sleepy, indifferent, bad-tempered, and a failure. True, he has plenty of money. That venture in Mexico was successful so far as this world's gear is concerned. He has won through various revolutions and uprisings and failures and is a man of mark in his own community. But he feels himself a failure.

"I thought I could waste a few years when I was young," he said. "I wanted to have adventure and see the world—and I did. It would have done me no harm, except that I did my wandering during my impressionable years. A boy of twenty had best stay where he hopes to become a permanency, and do his wandering after his character has been formed and strengthened by the passage of the years."

Every foreign land is full of "lost men." Every man jack of them, barring those who ran away from the law or from failure, began his world-seeing too young. They have been hardened in the wrong mould.

DO YOU KNOW THAT?

20TH CENTURY CLUB PLANS MEETINGS

Beginning Thursday Evening Weekly Gatherings Will Be Held

Thursday evening of this week at 8 o'clock, the Twentieth Century club will begin a series of evening meetings, both entertaining and instructive, at a small price for admission. Dr. William C. Minifie, ex-chaplain of the "City of London National Guards," will lecture on "The Highways and Byways of Great Britain." Among his many high recommendations as a lecturer is one from the lecture secretary of the United Kingdom stating that his addresses before the American soldiers in the kingdom were most successful. The lecture will be illustrated with beautiful scenes.

SINGER COMES TO EAGLE ROCK

The Sewing Machine shop, where the popular Singer sewing machine will be sold and repaired, has been opened in the new Eagle Rock building at 116 South Castle avenue. J. A. Wheeler, proprietor of this new establishment, has been with the Singer sewing machine people for the past fifteen years, and he is one of the most expert repair men on this and other makes of machines in this part of the country. In addition to selling new machines he will handle used machines and will be headquarters for sewing machine supplies of all kinds.

YOUNG EAGLE ROCK MUSICIANS GIVE CELEBRATION

Young musicians of this city did the honors of Eagle Rock in the celebration of "music week." All by themselves, they gave a perfectly appointed luncheon in the women's clubhouse on Saturday at 1 p. m., and followed it with meetings of both Junior and Juvenile Music clubs, which were attended by a large number of interested adults. Ninety-two people sat down to the beautifully decorated tables. Members of the Junior club served as waitresses, the girls looking charming in their pretty silk dresses. Miss Ruth Cameron, their president, presided and made the speaker in a way that addressed of welcome, and introduced the administration of all the clubwomen present. Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, president of the Glendale Music club, who was one of the speakers, was warm in her commendation, and emphasized the fact that this club was the first Junior organization to be admitted to the state federation of music clubs. Since then a Juvenile club has been organized in Eagle Rock and admitted, having passed all requisite tests. Other luncheon speakers were Mrs. Ella F. Duffield of the Southern California Women's Press club, the composer of many songs, and Miss Adelaide Trowbridge, superintendent of the music department of the University of Southern California.

The first feature of the afternoon was a demonstration business meeting of the Juvenile club, Miss Frances Harsh presiding. This showed a pleasing familiarity with the proper methods of conducting such a meeting. A program furnished by the Junior club followed. It consisted of a piano trio, a group of her own compositions sung by Mrs. Duffield, and the piano and violin numbers which were awarded prizes at the contest earlier in the season, when Miss Trowbridge and two other Los Angeles musicians acted as judges. The juveniles presented Mrs. Duffield with a large bouquet of wild flowers which they had gathered on the hill-sides.

EAGLE ROCK IS MOTOR FAN CITY

"Business was never better than it is at the present time," says the manager of the Holley Motor Sales company, 222 East Colorado boulevard, Eagle Rock. "There seems to be no let-up in the buying of automobiles by the people of Eagle Rock, and in the selection of their machines they seem to be 'picking' on the Chevrolet, which is daily demonstrating its ability to give the maximum service at the least possible financial outlay."

The Holley Motor Sales company is one of the most ardent boosters of Eagle Rock and the surrounding section. It is right on its toes at all times when the interests of that beautiful little city are concerned. In every sense of the word the Holley Motor Sales company is a home concern. It boosts for everything that is for the good of its city, and the members and employees of this concern spend their money right in Eagle Rock. For this reason the people of Eagle Rock should patronize this and other local firms when they are considering purchasing motor cars or having their machines repaired. They should not in any manner give their support to "fly-by-night" outfits that come in and endeavor to sell their wares, doing so very often without even taking out a permit. It is only by patronizing home industry and everyone pulling together that Eagle Rock can grow.

PERSONALS

Mrs. C. N. Wineman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Seaman of South Highland avenue, has returned to her home at Tulare county. She has been assisting in the care of her father during his serious illness.

The lot on the northeast corner of Virginia and Stanley avenues has been sold to Mrs. R. C. Lauman of Imperial valley, formerly for years the next-door neighbor of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Lawrence, whose new home next to the one they are now occupying will adjoin hers. Mrs. Lauman expects to begin the construction of her house in a few weeks. Her daughter teaches at El Centro.

Mrs. Dunn, the mother of Mrs. H. E. Warren, who has been spending the winter with the family at 156 Eddy avenue, started back to her home in Michigan last Saturday.

UNCONSCIOUS MOTIVITY THEME OF DR. FAREED

Those who attended the evening service in the Congregational Church on Sunday were privileged to hear that the widely cultured physician and psychoanalyst, Dr. Ameen M. Fareed, M. D. and L. L. D. His topic was, "The Psychology of the Unconscious," one of the greatest subjects of the age, by a large number of interested adults. In the limits of an address, Fareed's notes follow: "It is a mistake to be too metaphysical, and also a mistake to be too physical, but every rational step leading to spirituality should be taken. Psychoanalysis, though regarded as a new study, from one standpoint, is as old as the hills, and was advocated in the Bible. 'Know thyself.' Latter day students, through the study of certain traits in individuals, can and do heal when mediums have failed. There are ailing people who come against blockades, either in their minds, or in their medical treatment, and psychoanalysis finds out what causes the blockade and removes the trouble."

"The unconscious is that part of the human being which registers all impressions, emotions and experiences. In reality there is no forgetting. Everything is pigeon-holed in the subconscious. We remember the pleasant things in life and do not like to think of the unpleasant, but they are all there in the unconscious part of our being. The greatest aim of psychoanalysis is to re-adjust personality. The time is coming when we will discover the fallacy of the concept that there is a difference between functional and organic diseases; also that it is equally correct, when speaking of a sound mind in a sound body, to say where there is a sound body there is a sound mind. Like cures like. This subject has special import to every individual. Many nervous derangements, mental ailments and suicides could be averted by knowledge of this subject."

"The field of the unconscious is very wide. There is such a thing as race unconsciousness. Many things that we are or do are caused by some race impression or complex. Let us hope that the day will come when we shall no longer follow like sheep, but will each think for ourselves. The day of independent thought will be the day of victory. The unconsciousness plays tricks on us. When we absolutely forget a thing, in our consciousness, positively cannot recall a name, for instance, there is some repression connected with that name and psychoanalysis can tell us what it is. These things prove that our thoughts are a peculiar psychologic mechanism. Some scientists declare there are no new thoughts. I believe we are a composite of our forebears and possess some trait of each ancestor. The Psychology of the unconscious is a wonderful theme and complex. Great discoveries have been made by Dr. Jung of Zurich and others, and more will surely follow."

The doctor illustrated his lecture with accounts of personal cases. He has been a deep student of all the religions of the world and in all of them he found good, the same spiritual desires.

EAGLE ROCK HAS OWN OPTICIAN

Dr. William L. Barrowman has just opened an optical parlor at 107 South Central avenue, and is now in position to take efficient and satisfactory care of the optical needs of the people of Eagle Rock. Dr. Barrowman also has an office in Highland Park, regular office hours being maintained at both locations. There is little doubt but that Dr. Barrowman will make a success of his business here, as the people of Eagle Rock realize and appreciate expert optical service.

MRS BRUCE WINS DIPLOMA IN LAW

At the meeting of the Gleason Parliamentary club of Los Angeles on Saturday, Mrs. W. E. Bruce, residing at 157 Eddy avenue, Eagle Rock, was one of the seven advanced students who received diplomas as graduates. All are prominent members of various organizations. Mrs. Bruce is the parliamentary of the Women's Twentieth Century club in this city and has more than once settled mooted points in club procedure.

EAST SIDE EAGLE ROCK CLUB ORGANIZES

One Hundred Attend
First Meeting of
New Unit

With great enthusiasm and an attendance of over a hundred citizens, the new civic club in the east end of Eagle Rock became a reality last Monday night. The meeting convened in the east school building and B. F. Pearson, general superintendent of the Southern California Edison company, was elected as temporary chairman. Mrs. S. A. Ratcliff acted as secretary pro tem. Mr. Ratcliff was called upon to state the purpose of the meeting and a resolution was passed to form an organization "to foster a loyal community spirit among the citizens of the eastern section of Eagle Rock City, and promote their common welfare." It was the sense of the meeting that, while a friendly rivalry between the various organizations in Eagle Rock would be beneficial to them all, the new organization expected to work hand in hand with the chamber of commerce and other groups of citizens.

Mr. G. Gordon Whitnall, secretary of the Regional Planning Conference of Los Angeles, in a rousing address, presented to the assembly the advantages of a civic club in our community. "What can and is Eagle Rock doing, and why?" he asked. "When a community nowadays finds itself suddenly confronted with a problem, the people meet and compare notes, and so we find a reversion back to the old principles of government, with meetings held in the little red school house. This is a good sign, and we find that we are, after all, just one great big family. Eagle Rock City is one unit in the fastest growing metropolis that this world has ever seen. I am not speaking of Los Angeles now. I am speaking of Eagle Rock, Santa Monica, Alhambra, and all other communities which all together constitute that metropolis."

Continuing, Mr. Whitnall pointed out the huge expense involved in correcting mistakes made by the large cities in the east, and urged his hearers to see to it that an intelligent effort be made to plan ahead when making improvements in our city. "Today is the yesterday of tomorrow. What can we do to avoid duplicating the conditions in other cities? Our future metropolis will cover an area of about 700 square miles, extending from the mountains to Long Beach and from the San Gabriel river to Santa Monica. We will have the common problems of water supply, sewage disposal, highway and rail transportation, all kinds of health administration, and the laying out of territory through the medium of subdivisions. Glendale, Eagle Rock, Pasadena, Alhambra, San Gabriel, and Los Angeles are separate politically, but physically they are one, and their problems are the same problems. It takes just as much planning to build a city as it does to build a school house. You lay brick on brick in building, and in a city you put a subdivision and then another subdivision, and so on. You cannot put one brick here and one there, at random, and complete a beautiful building. In the same way today we must control our subdivisions, so that the city as a whole may benefit, and each community must fit in with the others."

After some discussion, a committee was appointed to draft a constitution and by-laws, and then the meeting adjourned until Monday evening, April 24.

STORE FRONTS TO BLOSSOM FORTH AT EAGLE ROCK

Automobilists passing through Eagle Rock must get the impression that the little city is having a general cleaning up and setting in order for fine furnishings. The big steam shovel that cleared 100 feet frontage for six stores on which work has begun, between Fairmont and Central avenues, then scooped out the bank on the corner next the public library, has also leveled the large lot on the northeast corner of Central and Myrtle avenues, owned by James Ferdon. The last two properties will probably not be built on at present, but are merely placed in readiness. At the east end, the whole boulevard frontage of the famous Dahila Heights tract is being graded down to street level, and North Townsend and Virginia avenues have been put through the tract. Street work is also being done in the new west end tracts.

F. Schleuter, the well-known contractor, has begun the erection of a two-story hollow tile and brick block on his lot between Myrtle and Stanley avenues, on South Central avenues. The lower floor will be devoted to a popular-priced restaurant, conducted by two men from San Diego, Mark H. Ryan and C. W. Shanklin. There will be apartments and offices in the upper story. Mrs. W. J. Roach, owner of the four stores recently completed by the J. B. Brown Co. at the northeast corner of Linden way and Myrtle avenue, will soon build four more stores on the remaining land. All of the completed ones have been leased for five years.

EAGLE ROCK STARS ELECT MEMBERS

Four new members were elected in Eagle Rock chapter No. 513, Order of the Eastern Star, Monday evening. They were Elena A. Parker, Elizabeth King Underwood, Margaret D. Riker and Marion Arnold Thompson. A delightful program was rendered after the meeting adjourned by Mrs. Ed. Rondot, whistler; Miss Hazel Rondot, violinist; Miss Mabel Wilson, pianist, and Mrs. Willmore Walz, accompanist. Coffee, sandwiches and cake were served.

Mrs. R. E. Yarbrough of 139 South Kenilworth avenue is entertaining her sister, Mrs. E. D. Thompson, who resides on San Catalina island.

PHONE OPERATION SHOWN HI STUDENTS

Through the courtesy of Fred Deal, manager of the Glendale telephone exchange, the student body of the Glendale Union high school were yesterday given a practical demonstration of how telephone calls are handled in the exchanges. This demonstration was given by Miss Dorothy McDonald, who is an instructor of student telephone operators and three of her assistants. A miniature board showing sections of four exchanges, two automatic and two manual, was used in the demonstration. These boards operated like the larger boards and showed every phase of handling the telephone calls. A motion picture showing the growth of the telephone service in Los Angeles was also shown.

PRESBYTERIANS HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

Congregation Hears Totals of Funds and Prosperity of Year

Rev. W. E. Edmonds was made presiding officer and R. P. Isitt clerk, at the annual congregational business meeting of the Glendale Presbyterian church, held Wednesday evening. The attendance was larger than at any meeting in previous years. The usual splendid spirit of loyalty and cooperation was manifest throughout the entire meeting and much enthusiasm was shown in the reports of work done during the past year, as well as in plans for the coming year. Every proposition presented was carried unanimously. Written reports were given by all organizations and also by the treasurers of the various organizations. Much interest was shown in the report of the congregational treasurer, Miss Louise M. Guenther, which showed all bills paid up to date. The congregation has paid more than $6000 for missionary purposes during the past year and has raised a grand total of $23,000 during the year. This amount does not include the new church building fund. The Sunday school reported an enrollment of 849, which is raised to 975 when the cradle roll and home departments are added.

A full-time church secretary, Miss Louise M. Guenther, has been employed, who will also act as congregational treasurer. H. L. Finlay has also been employed as executive secretary of the finance committee for the new building fund and will devote his entire time to this project. Plans are now being made for a most interesting program on Easter Sunday afternoon, when ground will be broken for the new building at the corner of Louise and Harvard streets.

The following officers were elected last evening: Trustees, T. V. Preston, J. M. Fife, W. S. Perrin, C. E. Boss, J. B. McClellan and A. L. Baird; deacons, H. L. Lawrence, Glenn B. Porter, N. H. Stanley, Geo. F. Daugherty, H. C. Rettberg and W. C. Harris were re-elected. W. H. Barnes, L. A. Hart, Howard M. Lennox and Dr. A. Dwight Smith were newly elected. Elders, H. H. Schumaker, W. G. Boyd, R. P. Isitt and H. L. Finlay were re-elected, and D. L. Foster, W. A. Horn, G. F. Snyder and Rex C. Kelley were newly elected. At the close of the meeting short talks were given by Rev. Louis Tinning, assistant pastor, and Rev. W. E. Edmonds. The spirit of these talks and the expressions of the officers and members present showed clearly that the Presbyterians are facing a year of wonderful opportunity and privilege.

A grocer had a lot of cheese that was anything but good. Tired of seeing the stuff about he told his clerk to leave one of the condemned cheeses at the door for some one to walk off with. Thomas crept to the window to watch results and at length went to the grocer grinning all over his face and announced that the cheese was gone.

"Leave another out tomorrow night," was the grocer's order, which was obeyed by the clerk, who, after a few peeps next evening, went to his employer scratching his head and looking as though some great disappointment had befallen him.

"Has it gone?" asked the grocer. "No, sir; they've brought back the other."

Rockefeller Watches Harding Play Golf

John D. Rockefeller, reputed to be the world's richest man, is shown here watching President Harding "coming in" on the 16th hole of the golf links at Ormond Beach, Fla., where Rockefeller lives in winter and where the nation's chief executive is spending a brief vacation. The multimillionaire was on the sixth hole, going out, when this photo was taken.

The usual dear old lady had the usual parrot, presented to her by the usual sailor nephew. The bird had a vocabulary that would have made a truck driver thoughtful. As a consequence, if spent Sundays with its cage covered so as not to shock sensitive ears with language unfit for all times and impossible on the Sabbath.

One Monday morning Polly had just been uncovered when the preacher was announced. Hurriedly the parrot was covered up again, but just as the minister was shown into the room he heard a voice from the cage: "It's been a darned short week, hasn't it?"

A certain hostess never can remember which of her friends know one another. The other day she was talking to an acquaintance and she did not realize that her visitor was the sister of a famous author whose manners are brusque. "Of course," said she, "I have known Mr. Blank (mentioning the author) for years. I knew him before he was married."

"Oh, yes," responded the visitor, with polite interest.

"It's true," continued the hostess, smiling sweetly, "he has no manners, but, then, of course, there isn't a single member of family that has."

EXPOSITION CO. DEMANDS RETRACTION

To handle the show, the Glendale Daily Press, knowing the standing and ability of the Pacific Coast Exposition company to deliver the goods in canvas, as proved by the company last August in Glendale, negotiated for the biggest tent the company owned.

At that time the Press did not know that La Brique ever intended to attempt to follow up the success of the Pacific Coast company here with a show of his own in Glendale, or that the Glendale News would back his outfit up with the statements of which La Brique's late employer complains today to The News.

The sole purpose of the Glendale Press in attempting to organize this exposition is the furthering of Glendale's interests.

It does not expect to make money through it, except through the legitimate sale of its display columns. The rates will be unchanged.

In passing, it is worthy of note that the attitude of The News is consonant with that upon Dollar Day, when it endeavored to anticipate the plans of the Glendale Press, for the cash value of the Press' ideas.

Now that the plans are given partial publicity it will be interesting to observe the tactics of The Glendale Evening News toward another effort for the benefit of Glendale from which it derives no revenue.

CRIME AT REDDING

REDDING, Cal., March 30.—Redding was suffering from a "crime wave" today. For the fourth consecutive night holdups were reported to the police during last night. M. F. Eldridge and O. A. Shelnor, both well-known, were last night's victims. Shelnor was relieved of his spare change. Eldridge showed fight and the robbers gave up. He had $175 with him.

GLENDALE WOMEN WIN HONORS

The plans for the Tuesday Afternoon club of Glendale have been beautifully mounted and given a conspicuous place where they are attracting much attention.

Mrs. Robert Burdette was the chief speaker Tuesday afternoon, her main theme being "The Square Table at Washington," otherwise the disarmament conference. It was a wonderful talk and was followed by a report on the situation with regard to the status of the project to erect a building in Washington to serve as national federation headquarters. She expressed her mortification over the fact that California has contributed practically nothing, while Texas has given $5000 and Florida $500. As a result of her challenge, Mrs. J. B. Duntley of Hollywood was appointed to assist her in securing contributions.

Wednesday morning was given to county reports and to addresses by David C. Allison on clubhouse architecture; by Paul J. Howard on landscape architecture, in which he urged the harmonious coordination of club setting and building; and by Rev. Wilsie Martin on "The American Foundation of Peace."

The Wednesday afternoon program had been planned for the "howl," but because of the lowering weather was given in the high school auditorium. It was musical and included numbers by the high school orchestra and glee club, by the Santa Monica band, by the Van Nuys chorus, the Los Angeles Ebbl chorus, directed by Hugo Kirchofer with Mrs. Bush at the piano; there was community singing led by Mr. Kirchofer; Miss Gloria Mayne sang "Love's Spring" accompanied by the municipal chorus, directed by Mr. Kirchofer, sang "In May," the Ganesha quartet of Pomona sang "Happy Song"; the Eagle Rock chorus, in Indian costume, sang "Caden's 'Ski Blue Water'; there was a number by a quartet of the Santa Monica band, and last but not least, was the Madrigal club number already mentioned.

This morning's program was to include the reports of other federations, viz. the California federation of music clubs, to be presented by its president, Mrs. Cecil Frankel; the federation of business and Professional women's clubs, by its president, Miss Lloy Gelpin; the California federation of women's clubs, by its president, Mrs. William A. Fitzgerald; district federation by Mrs. Julia D. No. die, president; and reports from several other leagues and organizations.

This afternoon, resolutions will be submitted; there will be musical numbers and an illustrated lecture on "The American Indian," by Edward S. Curtis. This evening will be given over to the three plays by the Glendale drama section: "Poor Old Jim," "Glory of the Morning," and "Mrs. Ritter Appears." Paul Carson, organizer of the Glendale theatre, will accompany the players to Santa Monica to provide the musical interludes, and as before, Booth Franklin will have charge of the stage settings. In the cast of "Poor Old Jim" are Ray L. Galvin, Mrs. L. G. Sherman and Dr. R. E. Chase. Those having parts in the beautiful little Indian drama are Mrs. Malvern C. Barker, Wesley Kent, Doris Packer, Dr. C. W. Bachman and Booth Franklin. In the third play, "Mrs. Ritter Appears," Mrs. R. E. Chase has the title role and associated with her in the cast are Joseph V. Griffin, Mrs. E. A. Bode, Mrs. Charles A. Parker and Mrs. Ray Galvin.

When a shoe is run down there is no one to stand up for it.

How to Figure Your Want Ad

Count five average words to each line. The address at the foot of your Want Ad is counted also. Each number, initial, etc., counts as one word. For example, the name, "John C. Smith," is three words; "212 W. Main Street" is four words; "160 acres, 3 miles from railroad, $300 per acre," is nine words, etc. In case you want a keyed or "blind" address used instead, indicate so above. The "blind" address comprises five words and will be counted as part of your advertisement.

ELECTRIC WIZARD OFFICIALS OF BANK
LECTURES BEFORE GIVE DINNER TO STUDENT BODY STOCKHOLDERS

All the seats in the high school auditorium were filled and a goodly number were standing for the demonstration lecture given this morning by Mr. Ford the wizard of electricity. He had a most enthusiastic, responsive audience, especially when he called for students to assist him in experiments involving "sparking."

He dwelt upon the fact that the earth is surrounded by a force which we are only just beginning to understand and appreciate, a force to which the world is looking to supply its power when the natural resources of coal, gas and oil and its water power are exhausted. He declared that instruments have been perfected to convert a ray of sunlight or heat into electricity. In illustrating this declaration he used what he called an "H-cent battery," two small coils of wire slightly separated from each other. Pieces of wet paper were placed on either side of the coil and against these, a dime on one side, a penny on the other. A lighted match, to raise the temperature of one coil, generated enough electricity to ring a bell, which ceased when the temperature of the other coil was raised to the same heat.

He demonstrated in interesting ways, with the help of students, how a dangerous current can be converted into a harmless one, and the difference between direct and alternating currents, how magnetism can be converted into electricity, and vice versa.

He made lightning and thunder on a small scale and explained that a small spark will set up waves that travel 186,000 miles. These are the waves that carry wireless messages through space. He predicted that wireless receivers will become as common as victrolas because no records will be needed, the owners having merely to listen in on the music of the spheres.

The varying response to be secured from waves of different length was demonstrated by pressure on one button in his miniature wireless apparatus, which set a doll dancing across the room. Another button sent out waves of different length, which lighted an electric bulb, and a third rang a bell. In the final demonstration which ended the lecture, he pressed a button in his wireless set which elevated and unfurled two little silk flags across the room and in the same manner brought into view an artificial bouquet set between the hands of the students.

Great applause showed that the lecture was thoroughly enjoyed by the students.

On Tuesday evening, the officers and directors of the Glendale State bank gave a banquet to the stockholders at the banquet room in the Citizens' building, dinner having been served by the Glen Inn management. Covers were laid for 84, a number of the stockholders not being able to attend on account of other engagements.

After the plates had been cleared away A. R. Eastman, president of the bank, made a brief speech in which he explained the object of the banquet, viz: to bring stockholders together and promote a spirit of co-operation with each other and with the officers and employees of the bank.

W. E. Evans, toastmaster of the evening, and one of the bank's directors, was then introduced by Mr. Eastman. He proved an able man for the position and an eloquent one, telling of the purpose of the organizers of the bank, the success of the bank, its program and possibilities. The success of the institution, he insisted, did not depend entirely on the officers but to a large extent on the co-operation

DON WIEMAN IS PLAYGROUND SUPT. IN TUJUNGA

Starting Monday Grounds Are to Be Open Each School Night

TUJUNGA, Mar. 30.—The Tujunga Parent-Teacher association has engaged Don Wieman as playground superintendent until the end of the school year. The association believed that a competent instructor should be secured for playground work after school hours, and as the school board was unable to help at this time, agreed to raise the necessary funds. This it has done by serving suppers and by entertainments.

Mr. Wieman is experienced in playground work and plans to conduct the grounds along strictly modern physical education lines. It is claimed that supervised play is the most practical form of recreation for children, and the idea is being taken up all over the country. Tujunga is fortunate in being able to inaugurate the plan here.

The grounds will open next Monday afternoon and will be open until 5 o'clock each school day. While all school children are welcome to stay and play a note must be received from the child's parents expressing their willingness to have him stay.

Chiropractic is a science as accurate as mathematics. The position of vertebrae of the spine indicates the source of disease. By skillful adjusting with the hands the pressure from spinal nerve trunks is relieved. Each organ and function then gets its normal amount of nerve energy as life force, and health results. Investigation costs nothing and shows the way to health.

Foley's Friendly Fancies

REASSURING THE BRIDE

JAMES W. FOLEY

You ask me if I love you dear. I do. I live in you, by you, through you, for you.

For me you are the sunlight and the flowers, And when your eyes close sleep, then are the hours

Of darkness and the night. When slumber creeps Over your eyes, each star in heaven sleeps And all delights are dull. Your smiles and tears Are as the sun and cloud of all my years.

You ask me for some sign of love. What more Is there to give than I have given before. And yet perhaps there is another sign By which my love is proven, Heart of Mine.

Love, do you not remember how I ate The pie upon that dainty, flowered plate The pie you made from that book recipe And laid upon the table here for me?

How in my love and deep, sweet gratitude I ate that pie you made and called it good, And it lay in me like a paving stone, And how all night I lay and did not groan.

Lest you should wake and hear my anguished cry, Yes, hear me cry: "Oh my! Oh pie! Oh why?"

Yes, mine is blind idolatry and true, I live in you, by you, through you, for you, And when again or ever you would try My love for you, make me another pie.

NEAR FAR EAST CLAIMS PULPITS NEXT SUNDAY

Campaign for Funds and Clothing Starts Spring Drive

Bringing vividly home to Glendale the story of America's humanitarian work among the Christian peoples of Palestine, Turkey and southern Russia, where more than 130,000 orphaned children are maintained by United States philanthropy, five young women, returned overseas relief workers, the Misses Irene Eldred, Elise Turan, Gertrude S. Pearson and Evelyn Trostle and Mrs. Harold G. Hahn, nationally known speakers for Near East Relief, will next Sunday, April 2, address Sunday schools and church services and exhibit the famous moving picture, "Alice in Hungerland," before several audiences.

The relief speakers come here by invitation of local pastors through Rev. R. W. Mottern of Glendale, district director for Near East Relief.

"Alice in Hungerland," the film to be shown here Sunday, positively was not posed in Glendale or Hollywood and no professional actors took part in the picture, according to Rev. Mottern. The film depicts scenes and things and people right in Turkey, Palestine, Armenia and southern Russia, and brings the Near East most vividly to Glendale. It is a dramatic story, based on actual scenes and conditions here disclosed for the first time.

Just what is the Near-East Relief? It is often asked by those whose interests have been awakened to the terrible conditions among the people in Bible lands. It will be answered by the pulpits of Glendale Sunday.

To begin, the Near East Relief is a body incorporated by an act of U. S. Congress with the object of providing relief for the needy and destitute because of Turkish atrocities assisting them in repatriation, rehabilitation and establishing them in their own land in the Near East and adjacent areas; to provide for the care of orphans and widows, and to promote the social, economic and industrial welfare of those who have been rendered destitute or dependent, directly or indirectly by the vicissitudes of war, the cruelties of men or other causes beyond their control.

The aim of this organization is 100 per cent relief, that kind of relief that puts those aided on a self-supporting basis, and that instills in them a confidence for the future, placing in their hands the means by which to begin life anew, in their hearts the courage to go on.

The Near-East Relief is not a political and non-sectarian. Relief is administered on the basis of the greatest need to all suffering and helpless people, adults and children, regardless of race or creed or nationality.

Funds are secured by direct appeals to the American public. It is purely a work of personal services for a humanitarian ideal and is largely dependent for its success here and in the field of operations upon the services of volunteer workers.

The collection of funds for this work is directed from National Headquarters, 151 Fifth avenue, New York City. All plans there created finally reach every county and community through organizations located in every state of the Union, by means of field departments.

Besides the funds secured, campaigns are conducted each year for donations of commodities of grain and worn clothing. Personal services are provided for the needy.

Each state is allotted a quota expressed in the terms of lives of orphans, based on its estimated wealth and population.

All bills are paid directly or indirectly from the funds that national treasurer and national committee control. Last year the entire operations here and on the field did not exceed 5 per cent of its entire income, and even that was taken care of by personal large donors to the fund.

The books of the Near East Relief both here in America and on the field, are most scrupulously audited by the navy department of our government, which is thoroughly done from every angle, once each year, when an annual report is rendered to congress.

The Near East Relief has the unstinted endorsement of the National Information Bureau, all the churches of every creed, Sunday schools, young people's societies, women's organizations, men and women's clubs, public schools, civic organizations, brotherhood conventions and conferences of all kinds, professions, state and county organizations, all fraternal bodies secret and otherwise, all industrial and agricultural organizations of every kind, throughout the entire American nation, regardless of race or color, the rich or poor.

The Near East Relief is the red Cross at work in Turkey salvaging the remnant of Christian peoples and their children from distress, and suffering, urged on from the point of mercy, love, large-heartedness and necessity, that refuses in the spirit of the Master, to turn a deaf ear to needy humanity.

"A POOR RELATION AT THE GLENDALE

SPRING PICK UP IN REALTY IS PREDICTED

Realty Company Surveys Field With Optimistic Eyes

"We predict that with the coming of spring and sunshine, the real estate in this section will pick up greatly," says the Yale Bros. Realty company, 249 North Brand boulevard. "In fact, we believe that already we are experiencing a general improvement in the realty market, and everything points to a continued advancement. Things as a whole are getting brighter and we are looking for one of the best summers, so far as real estate sales are concerned, that Glendale has ever experienced."

The cold winter is rapidly disappearing. This, we believe, is responsible for the people holding back in their buying. In fact, it is this; that has been keeping the people away. They are putting off the buying of real estate until the weather becomes more favorable. In our business we notice that the sunny days bring a greater number of buyers."

There is a card in this firm's office that is right to the point. It reads:

"Own your own home. Whose home are you paying for—your own or the other fellow's?"

Emery Park Branch Here

The Meyerling & Lawrence company, subdivision specialists, who have the Emery Park, are maintaining a branch office at 204 East Broadway. This office is under the personal supervision of J. A. Des Mazes, who has had years of experience in the real estate and subdivision business. Emery Park is the place where Burch O'Neill, who put Windsor Square on the map, has purchased 15 lots and already has plans under way for the construction of 15 houses. Several Glendale people have purchased lots in this subdivision, among these being Mrs. Walter, 505 South Louise street, and Mrs. M. Corral, 517 South Louise. Emery Park stands at the gateway of the San Gabriel valley, adjoining Alhambra and South Pasadena. It has 18-minute car service, with 761 cars passing the track daily. Improvements to the extent of $750,000 are being installed.

People Want Homes

Caldwell & Elliott, corner Colorado and Brand, report that there are quite a few inquiries at this time for court sites in Glendale. It seems that a number of investors are just waking up to the fact that there is no better place on the face of the earth than Glendale for erecting rental property. Now that this fact is being realized, the demand for court sites and apartment-house sites is increasing daily. There is also a big demand right now for homes in Glendale. The tendency seems to be toward owning the home rather than renting, this probably coming to a considerable degree as a result of the "Own Your Own Home" week, that was held in the entire state of California recently. There are new faces being seen in Glendale and most of these people are looking for homes.

Clement's Orange Tract
Everything is about ready for further installation of improvements in the Clement orange tract, which is located at Glendale and Pacific avenues. This is one of the most charming subdivisions in Glendale. The lots are covered with an excellent class of orange trees and are well worth considering by the fellow who is looking for a home site. This tract is being handled exclusively by Charles H. Hoge, G. H. Hoffman and G. W. Nickolaus, real estate agents, located at 215½ South Brand boulevard.

GLASGOW WOOLEN MILLS OPEN HERE

The Glasgow Woollen Mills merchant tailoring establishment, 219 South Brand boulevard, will open its doors to the Glendale public next Saturday, April 1. The proprietors of this establishment are I. Goldberg and I. Gold, both of whom arrived recently from Chicago, where they had been in the tailoring business for many years. This firm will make a specialty of strictly first-class tailoring for men and women. These tailoring artists are here to give to the people of this place the experience of their many years of tailoring. They know this particular business from the buying of the material to the finishing of the garment so that all of the Glendale people who patronize them may feel assured of getting honest value in both workmanship and material. In addition to doing men's and ladies' tailoring, this firm will do repairing, altering and cleaning of all kinds of clothes.

As a special inducement for opening this firm offers to give a pair of trousers free with every suit ordered on this opening. The extra trousers may be of the same material as the suit ordered or of other material in the shop. Quick service is something that this firm can promise patrons. They will make a specialty of Easter suits, and they promise delivery in time for this big event.

AFTER COYOTES

To exterminate coyotes Coos county, Oregon, is paying $8 for killing males and $9 for females. tonight, is one of the clean, wholesome, amusing stories which have endured throughout many years. It was acted on the stage with phenomenal success by Sol Smith Russell and has been played in stock all over the country.

NOON DAY FEEDS U. P. TRACK ON GLENDALE AVE. END AS WORK INCREASES

Improvement Noted in Labor Conditions in California

LOS ANGELES, March 30.—Improved labor and business conditions in California are said to be the reason for the discontinuance here by the Volunteers of America of free noon-day feeds for men out of work. With the serving of the last dinner late in March, several hundred jobless workmen and a number of "down and outers" were officially notified of the arrival of spring and opportunities for employment in adjoining cities and other sections of the state.

A "kitchen for unemployed" has been maintained since November by the volunteer organization as a feature of its winter welfare work under direction of William Driver, a volunteer worker from Oakland. During the four months a total of 20,751 meals were served to men who were temporarily "stranded," ill or otherwise handicapped.

Mr. Driver, who is a product of the Pacific Garden Mission of Chicago, where Billy Sunday and Mel Trotter "hit the sawdust trail," operated the kitchen on a community basis, the diners acting as waiters, dishwashers, potato peelers and floor scrubbers. The hundreds of men who came to the kitchen for breakfast and lunch were admitted to the bounty only after an investigation as to their worthiness.

Meals were served at 7 a. m. and 2 p. m. and consisted of coffee and doughnuts for breakfast and beef stew or beans, bread and coffee for lunch. In addition, scores of baskets of food were awarded to the families of men out of work as a temporary measure.

In discontinuing the noon-day meal Mr. Driver stated that there was no longer the necessity for such a charity as the weather and better labor conditions now permitted the men to fare farther away from city haunts in search of employment and the situation was greatly relieved. The breakfasts, however, are to be continued indefinitely as a part of the charitable work of the Volunteers.

VALENTINO CLOSES TODAY AT T. D. L.

Tonight will see the last showing of the George Melford production, "Moran of the Lady Letty" with Rudolph Valentino and Dorothy Dalton at the T. D. and L. theatre. By virtue of its bigness as an attraction combining great stars, direction, the work of Frank Norris, author of "Moran of the Lady Letty" has, as other T. D. and L. de luxe attractions, played to very successful business. As a warning note, however, Ralph Allan sends out a general reminder that it will be necessary for all those who have not yet seen it to be on hand tonight as this will be the last times shown.

NEBRASKA PICNIC REUNION

This will be the last call for all the Nebraskans of all Southern California to the twice postponed picnic reunion of the Cornhuskers and their folks. President R. W. Richardson urges all to rally for the new date Thursday, March 30, in Sycamore Grove Park, Los Angeles, and he will stage all the usual picnic doings. Bring the basket dinners, have a jolly day and meet old friends again.
